

The Rialto Theatre Foundation is pleased to offer its 2024 Rialto Summer Stage Crafters Program. This is a hands-on immersive learning experience where participants will receive an education in the behind-the-scenes efforts that make live music performances possible.

This program is a great fit for anyone wanting to be a musician or interested in a career in the live concert industry.

Every day participants will “load-in” and build the stage for a “show” that will culminate on Thursday. Friday will be the “load-out” which may not seem exciting but as we say in the industry “it’s all about the out.” Every participant will learn sound, lighting, video, and all about the other roles in theater.
